2 Work in pairs. Look at the pictures. Can you name them?

3 Listen and answer the questions.

4 Listen and read. Underline the words from activity 1.

The children are having a lesson about technology.

Teacher: People have used technology to change the world. Can you give me any examples?

Hiba: Mobile phones – they have made communication much easier.

Teacher: That's a good example, thank you, Hiba. Now let's think about our history. What has happened to change what we do?

Firas: Radio and TV are important for communication.

Teacher: Well done, Firas! But let's think back to ancient civilization. Any ideas?

Huda: I saw a TV programme about ancient Egypt. They moved water from the river to their farms.

Teacher: That's right. They had a very simple machine to move water. It was a pump. That was more than four thousand years ago. Today we still use a pump to do the same job.

Teacher: Now let's think about the future. What will technology do to change the future? What can you tell us, Salim?

Salim: My father is a scientist. He says we will find out there are people on other planets.

Teacher: Really? Who agrees with Salim's father?

5 Work in groups. Act out the conversation in activity 4.

3 Listen and read. Then choose the best title for the passage.

- 1 Technology: yesterday and today
- 2 Technology: today and tomorrow
- 3 Schools of the future

Word formation:
teach – teacher

Technology has changed how we live. Today large thin TVs hang on walls. Computers sit on desks at home, school and work and in many other places. In cars, a box can speak to the driver to tell him where to go. We can use our mobile phones to listen to music, take photos, watch TV or films, use the internet and to send text messages to each other – oh, yes, and talk to people!

So what about the future? How will technology change the life of children?

- One thing we can be sure about – there will be many more computers. Schools use computers now but in the next decades they will use them more and more. Some people say all children will have one on their desk. Or perhaps they will take a small laptop with them all day.
- And what about next century? Some scientists say there will be no schools. Children will stay at home and have their lessons on computers. Teachers will not teach – they will only program the computers.

4 Read and tick the true sentences. Then correct the false sentences.

- 1 We can find computers in many different places.
- 2 Today people only use their mobile phones to talk to each other.

1 Look at the dictionary entries and answer the questions.

Using a dictionary: plurals
We can use the dictionary to help with irregular plurals.

- 1 We make the plural of most nouns by adding -s or -es.
What is the plural of a pump b machine c sandwich?
- 2 Sometimes we don't just add -s to the noun. With nouns ending in -ry we do something different.
Look at the dictionary entry for century.
How do you spell the plural of century?
How do you spell the plurals of a country and b library?
- 3 Sometimes the plural word is different from the singular.
What is the plural of a man (woman) b foot (tooth) c life (knife)?
- 4 A dictionary can help you with these irregular plurals. Look at the second dictionary entry. Is the word children singular or plural?

century noun (plural centuries) a period of 100 years	child noun (plural children) a young person older than a baby children noun the plural of child
---	--

2 Read and think. Then write the sentences with quotation marks.

Writing skills: quotation marks

The teacher says, 'That's a good example'.
The words in quotation marks are the words people say without any changes.

I have a laptop.

Firas says, 'I have a laptop.'

- 1

Tariq wants a laptop.

 Salim says, '_____'

Science is interesting.

 My teacher says _____
- 3

There is no life in outer space.

 Some scientists say _____

Peter: I don't think we're moving at all. We can't go any faster, can we?

Taxi driver: I'm sorry but we can't. There's a lot of traffic today.

Peter: Why is it busy today? It's not always like this, is it?

Taxi driver: It is in summer. There are a lot of visitors to this city.

Peter: That's the problem with many modern cities. They are beautiful and interesting. They have beautiful buildings, nice restaurants, modern buildings and interesting shopping centres, but there are lots of visitors.

Taxi driver: For us, that's not a problem. We like to have visitors. We want people to enjoy our city.

Peter: Yes, but when visitors spend time in a city there is always a lot of traffic. And the traffic makes the air dirty and the streets untidy.

Taxi driver: I think this city is amazing. For example, look at this beautiful bridge over the river in front of us. That isn't ugly, is it?

5 Work in pairs. Act out the conversation in activity 4.

2 Work in pairs. Look at the picture. What do you think Peter and the taxi driver are talking about now?

3 Listen and read. Find two examples of pollution they talk about.

Peter: I agree with what you say – this is a beautiful city. What I’m saying is that all the visitors and traffic help to make pollution.

Taxi driver: Well, I agree with that. Look at all the plastic bags next to the road and in the river. That’s pollution and it’s very ugly.

Peter: That’s right. And plastic will stay there for a long time. Oh! What’s that? It’s a bicycle upside down in the river, isn’t it?

Taxi driver: Yes, it is and it makes me very angry! Why throw things in the river? Some people are awful, aren’t they?

Peter: Yes, they are. It’s very sad.

Taxi driver: The traffic is moving now. Where do you want to go?

Peter: Is there a bank near here? I need some money.

Taxi driver: Yes, there is. We’re almost there.

Peter: You can wait for me, can’t you? I’ll be quick.

Taxi driver: The bank will be busy. I’ll come back for you.

Peter: That’s kind of you.

Taxi driver: We’re all kind here. The traffic may be bad and the streets polluted but the people are good.

Peter: Yes! And that’s the most important thing, isn’t it?

Word formation:
pollution – polluted

4 Read and tick the true sentences. Then correct the false sentences.

- 1 Peter thinks the city is polluted but the taxi driver doesn’t agree.
- 2 There is a bank near where they are.

 When we ask a normal question our voice rises at the end. Usually with a question-tag question our voice falls at the end.

5 Listen and repeat.

- 1 Is that an old bike?
- 2 That's a beautiful bridge, isn't it?
- 3 That's an old bike, isn't it?
- 4 Those are plastic bags, aren't they?

6 Work in pairs. Read the poem aloud.

1 Read and think. Find the rules to make question tags. Then choose the correct tag to complete the rules.

1 Look at the verbs in the main sentence and in the tags at the end. What do you see?

Some people are awful, aren't they?

That isn't ugly, is it?

2 Now look at the whole tags. How do we make them?

2 When we think the answer is yes, we use a positive sentence and a positive / negative tag.

3 When we think the answer is no, we use a negative sentence and a positive / negative tag.

4 When the main sentence has is, are, was, were we use / don't use it again in the tag.

5 We must take a taxi, _____

Yes, of course we must.

5 Work in pairs. Ask and answer the questions in activity 4.

Grammar: question tags

- We use question tags at the end of sentences. They have a question mark but they are not really a question. We use them when we think we know the answer.
- When we think the answer to the question is yes, we use a positive sentence and a negative tag.
- When we think the answer to the question is no, we use a negative sentence and a positive tag.
- When the main sentence has any part of the verb be (am, is, are, was, were), then we use it in the tag.
- When the main sentence has an auxiliary or modal verb (have, do, can, must, will, etc.), then we use it in the tag.

1 Work in pairs. Look at the pictures. What do you think Peter and the taxi driver are talking about?

Visitors to Palestine always want to buy a gift to take home with them. They have a good choice of things to buy from the shops and markets. Every craft has a different history and comes from a different place. This is because Palestine has such a long history. In Jerusalem, visitors can watch artists paint beautiful patterns on plates, bowls and jugs.

Hebron is famous for beautiful blue vases and jugs made from glass.

In Bethlehem craftsmen make and sell things made from wood. They have done this for more than 1500 years and make more than a thousand different gifts.

In Gaza craftsmen make furniture (tables, chairs, etc.) from wicker (long, thin pieces of wood). It is beautiful to look at and to use.

 - _____ different dresses for different times of life
 - _____ history
 - _____ patterns and colours

Embroidery in Palestine has a history of more than 4000 years. For many centuries, women met to talk and embroider dresses after work. Each village had its own design. Therefore, people knew where a woman came from by looking at her dress. Mothers passed on their skills to their daughters.

Women had different dresses for different times of life. For example, there were different dresses for a young wife, a pregnant woman and a mother.

The embroidery at the front of a traditional dress has patterns of fruit, trees, flowers or birds. The colours also have a meaning. Green shows things growing, yellow shows the harvest and brown shows the earth.

Recently, Palestinian women have strengthened their traditional embroidery. New places of work have started up. The women here use the old designs but they make up new ones too. They have introduced a modern style. They sell their beautiful embroidered dresses all over the world.

3 Listen and read. Make a list of the ways to communicate in the passage.

Palestinian people live all over the world. However, modern communications allow us to keep in contact.

A hundred and fifty years ago, there were no phones and no email. It took weeks to send a letter to another country. And then it took several weeks to receive an answer. The telephone changed that.

The mobile phone allowed a second revolution in communications. Millions of people are now on the world's telephone network. With a modern mobile phone they can talk, send text messages, send or receive emails or use the internet.

However, the mobile phone network does not work at the top of mountains or out at sea. Sometimes it won't work outside of towns and cities. Satellite phones use satellites in outer space so they will work anywhere.

Video calls bring people's faces into our home. These use the internet so all we need to do is put a small camera and a microphone on a computer.

So I tell them about a beautiful quiet place we know. I tell them about the route that takes you between two mountains. You leave the car and walk along a small path. The narrow path takes you along a valley where there are always lots of flowers. At the end there are some woods with huge old trees. They protect you from the wind and the sun. There you eat your picnic. You listen to the birds singing and smell the flowers. You enjoy nature with your family. It brings you great happiness.

‘Oh,’ they say. ‘It sounds wonderful. Where is it?’

But I don’t tell them. I don’t want it to be popular. It is my place.
